He Maintains That the Barnet Letters Can Still Be Used -Ex-Gov. Black Says Hill Misses the Point-Belonging to Tammany Hall as "Prejudicial."

Ex-Gov. David B. Hill, arguing in behalf of the District Attorney yesterday before Judge Newburger in General Sessions against the dismissal of the murder indictment against Roland B. Molineux, declared that the revised opinion of the Court of Appeals, filed about ten days after the reversal of the conviction, declared, not that the Barnet letters were wholly inadmissible as evidence, but that they were inadmissible as evidence of the poison ing and death of Barnet. Mr. Hill said that the Court of Appeals had changed the wording of its original ruling barring letters "prejudicial" to the defendant's interests, so that it now reads that the letters may be used "unless otherwise incompetent." They may be used, Mr. Hill argued, to show that the writer was suffering from an illness and for the purpose of identifying the writer with Molineux.

Ex-Gov. Frank S. Black, arguing for Molineux, declared that the Court of Appeals had ruled against the Barnet letters, which were part of the Barnet evidence, and that these letters and the evidence as to the death of Barnet were so inextricably woven into the case, as it was presented to the Grand Jury, that they had their share in securing the indictment of Molineux, and that without them there was not sufficient legal evidence on which to indict. Ex-Gov. Black moved for the dismissal or the quashing of the indictment on the ground of illegal and insufficient evidence before the Grand Jury, and in case the motion was denied he wanted permission to inspect the minutes of the testimony before the Grand Jury. Mr. Hill opposed both motions. Judge Newburger reserved decision and gave a week in which the defendant's lawyers might file a brief.

Mr. Hill filed his at once. The courtroom was crowded when Judge Newburger took his seat on the pench at 10:30 o'clock. Molineux was not in the room. He remained in his cell in the Tombs Prison. Gen. Molineux sat in the jury box with Gen. Horatio C. King. City Chamberlain Keenan sat near the bench in the Judge's inclosure, in which were many well known criminal lawyers. A few women were in the room. Lawyers from several cities in this State presented passes to the doorman, explaining that they had come to town solely to hear the argument. Judge McMahon came in just as Mr. Hill in defining the difference between a prejudicial letter and an incompetent one, as regards evidence, made the remark that in some parts of this State it might be prejudicial to a man's interests if he admitted in a letter that he was a member of Tanmany Hall. Both Judges were Tammany nominees, Prosecutors Osborne and Garvan are members of the Hall, so are Weeks and Battle and so were most of the spectators; and a laugh ran around the room. Tombs Prison. Gen. Molineux sat in the spectators; and a laugh ran around the room.

Mr. Black, who opened the argument,

Mr. Black, who opened the argument, said: "We plead that the Barnet letters and all relating to his death were illegal, incompetent and irrelevant. An indictment based as this is, upon such evidence, cannot stand. This evidence has been ruled out by the Court of Appeals."

Aside from this Barnet evidence, he said, was only the evidence of Dr. Hitchcock and Harry Cornish, one testifying that Mrs. Adams died of poison and the other testifying that Molineux was his enemy. "And that is all that there is in this case," he said, "the Barnet evidence being excluded."

excluded.

"Why is this motion made at this late day?"
asked Judge Newburger.

"Because of the decision of the Court of Appeals," responded Mr. Black, "the case is practically at a new beginning and only the indictment is now before the court. Eliminate this Barnet evidence and what remains to show that we ever knew anything about cyanide of mercury or about the bottle holder?"

bottle holder?"

Mr. Hill in replying said that the motion was bold, audacious and the height of presumption, and was intended to delay the new trial that had been ordered. motion to inspect the minutes," he "must be made before the defendant leads to the indictment. A motion to se side the indictment must be made on arraignment and before plea, and then only There are only two grounds for setting aside an indictment: improper endorsement or the admission of persons improperly e Grand Jury room."

Hill quoted a decision to the effect Mr. Hill quoted a decision to the effect that the granting of a new trial put the case back to where it was after pleading. He pointed out that Judge Blanchard, sitting in General Sessions, had denied the application of the defense two years are for leave to inspect the Grand Jury's minutes. He conceded that the Barnet letters were considered by the Grand Jury, but no one knew whether or not they had affected the finding of the indictment. The Cornish letters alone might have been sufficient.

Motive was established, polson was ablished death was established murder and M. Hill "My friend read from the first opinion of the Court of Appeals when he read that all the Barnet evidence was incompetent, but when the Court came to revise the apinion it wrote that the extense tending to prove the death of Barnet was incompetent. The Barnet letters were properly admitted to show that Molineus was suffering from a complaint for which he wanted medicine and that he addressed the poisson package. The Cornish letters were used for the same purpose The Court of Appeals slid not rule against the count picters nor did it rule out the Barnet letters as used.

'GATOR FOR BREAKFAST.

Conduct of a Park Python Surprises Sup Smith and His Keepers. The largest of the three pythons in the Central Park menagerie felt hungry early esterday morning. Uncoiling itself from around the top of the tree trunk in its cage in the monkey house, it crawled over toward the tank of water where three young alligators were lying asleep and swallowed the largest one, which measured 2 feet 8 inches. The snake was 8 feet long. The swallowing process is supposed to have taken about an hour. Jake Cook, the keeper of the monkey house, entered the building as the snake was completing its meal. He reached the cage in time to see the saurian's tail still twitching as it disappeared from view. The keeper knew that he could not rescue victim without damage to the python, and pythons are more valuable than alligators, so he notified Supt. John B. Smith of the menagerie. Mr. Smith ordered the other two gators taken from the cage, lest the snake swallow them, also. The python evidently did not consider one gator sufficient for a meal, for he slid into the water tank at frequent intervals vesterday and searched about for the others he had previously seen there. When the snake stretched itself on the floor there was an apparent bulge in its middle and the outlines of the alligator could be plainly seen. and pythons are more valuable than alli-

Supt. Smith said that the python would have its strange meal digested in about a week without any bad consequences to itself. He was surprised at its conduct, as the two species of reptiles live in peace with each other in a wild state, and that was why he had put them in the same cage. He could not tell why the snake should feel the qualins of hunger so soon, as it was fed on election day.

The three pythons came from Africa and have been in the Park about a month. They are fed once in ten days, except when shedding their skins. Then they eat only once a month.

WIFE HELPED FIGHT MARSHALS. Threw Boiling Water at Them When They

Tried to Carry Off Her Husband. Louis Marks and Albert Angermann. marshals attached to the Yorkville civil court, went yesterday to 205 West Thirtyfirst street to serve a body attachment on Joseph Rosci, who bought a $55 watch on the installment plan from a jewelry com-pany several weeks ago, and who, according to the collector, hadn't kept up with his payments. Rosci is an Italian, and ouldn't make out what the two marshais wanted. So he got his carving knife and went at them.

Angermann pulled his gun and Rosci's wife, who is an able-bodied Irish woman, went to the kitchen and got a pail of boiling water. This she hurled at the marshals, who, however, managed to escape most of it.

Then the neighbors were called in to help fight the intruders, but Angermann held everybody at bay with his revolver while Marks went to the Tenderloin police station and got three bluecoats. They soon got the Italian out. He was locked up in Ludlow Street Jail.

BONNET THIEF IN TOWN. Gets Eight, Worth $300, From a Milliner

Credulous Messenger. Frank Evans, an errand boy employed by a Fifth avenue milliner, was sent out yesterday to deliver eight hats, valued at $300. He turned up at the Tenderloin police station later without the hats and said that they had been stolen.

The story the boy told was that he was walking up Fifth avenue and at Fortyfifth street a man who wore a frock coat and a silk hat stopped him and asked if he didn't want to earn 25 cents by taking he didn't want to earn 25 cents by taking a letter to a man in the apartment house on the southeast corner. Evans said he was willing and left his eight hats with the man, who volunteered to watch them until the boy got back.

The note was addressed to "J. J. Manlius." Of course there was no such person in the house, and when the boy came out of the house the silk-hatted man and the hats were gone. The boy says he heard that the man hailed a cab and took the hats uptown. Detectives Hawkins and hats uptown. Detectives Ha Churchill are looking for him.

GOLD AND JEWELS IN THE RUINS.

Special Detail of Police Guarding a Fire's Debris in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14 Gold, diamonds and other precious stones have been discovered in the ruins of the fire which destroyed the Stone building. Arnstin Bros. & Metr. manufacturing jewellers, occupied the second floor of the building. They carried a large stock. Little of it was saved. The intense beat, reduced watches, rings, forks and spoons to irregular masses of metal. They are scattered throughout the rules. Nearly $25,000 worth of unset diamonds were unburt except for a thin coating of carbon which was easily brushed off.

At present a special detail of police guards the ruins. No one who cannot give a good account of himself is allowed near them. Every particle of the debris will be carefully washed and gone over Speculators have offered $1,500 for the part of the floor that remains in the workroom, expecting to get gold out of it, but the offere has been re-fused.

WOULD ACCEPT DADY'S BID.

REPORT OF COMMISSION FAVOR-ABLE TO THE CONTRACTOR.

scramble for Office Illustrated in the Contest for the Presidency - Palma's Supporters More Active-Gomez Prediets That the Struggle Will He Keen.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, Nov. 14 .- The commission appointed by the Ayuntamiento, to report on the offer of Col. Michael J. Dady to reduce his bid for the paving and sewering contract by $572,036, has drawn up a report favoring the acceptance of the bid. Civil Governor Nunez, who presides at the sessions of the Ayuntamiento, said he considered that the report should not be read until the minutes of the meeting at which the contract was awarded to McGivney & Rokeby were approved. The report was therefore laid on the table.

The doubt which existed as to Gen. Maso's good faith when he published his recent manifesto regarding the Presidency is growing less. He has again said that he intends to run for the office. The official element and the other supporters of Estrada Palma are bestirring themselves. Gen. Maximo Gomez, presiding at a meeting of Senor Palma's supporters, said that the contest would be a keen one.

Senor Quesada, who is campaigning for Senor Palma, is said by the Lucha to be urging Senor Palma's cause by saying things against the Americans, though Senor Palma, with all the elements supporting him, is looked upon as an instrument of the policy of the American Government, and it is claimed that these Palmaists are the real conservative element, which will prove most sincerely disposed toward further friendly relations with the United States, or even annexation.

On the other hand it is argued that as the official element is composed of revolutionists and does not represent any property. its present conservatism is only due to the fact that in enjoys public offices and hopes to retain them under the new government, especially as many revolutionists, who apparently might just as well have been occupying these same positions, except for fact that they were not nominated for them, are supporting Gen. Meso.

Part of this element might change its attitude if it thought Gen. Maso was likely to win. Gen. Maso is the candidate of the malcontents, and althought the support of the officials is a great help to Senor Palma it is also a source of weakness, as it lays him open to attack as being the mere instrument of the American Government and his supporters to the charge that they sold themselves for their positions.

It is said by some that Gen. Maso repre sents the anti-American sentiment. By the tone of the Spanish newspapers he seems to have their support. The cry of the Masoists, however, is at present against the Cuban officials. Fernando de Castro, a former member of the Autonomist party, who is considered an able man, has published a letter supporting Gen. Maso. He says that those who wish to counteract Americanizing tendencies will support Gen. Maso. The hope of the latter probably lies in the vigorous politicians who are pushing his claims to the Presidency.

A motley collection of voters are supporting Gen. Maso, consisting of the Union Democrats, Autonomists, negroes, the anti-Platt delegates to the Constitutional Convention and that haif of the National party in Havana which supports Senor Gener. The other half of this party, which opposed the Platt amendment, is supporting Senor Palma.

The scramble is entirely one for power, there being apparently little difference in the programmes of the two candidates.

ALLEGED LONDON THIEF CAUGHT Accused of a $120,000 Fraud-Met a

THE CZOLGOSZ TRIAL.

Secretary Root Expresses Thanks of Cabinet for the Conduct of the Case. BUFFALO, Nov. 14.-District Attorney Penney this morning received a letter from Gov. Odell bearing on the Czolgosz The letter was sent to Gov. Odell

by Secretary of War Root, and is as follows:

My Dean Sir: I beg you to accept and convey to the officers charged with the administration of justice in the State of New York, and particularly in Eric county, an expression of satisfaction and approval upon the effective and dignified way in which the law has been vindicated and the ends of justice have been attained in the prosecution and punishment of the assassin, Czolgosz.

The Court, the prosecuting attorney, the officers who had the prisoner in charge, all appear to have performed their duties with effectiveness and decorum, and particular credit seems due to the distinguished gentlemen who, upon the request of the Bar of Eric county, undertook the disagreeable task of protecting the legal rights of the wretched culprit under the assignment of the Court.

The course of justice was swift but measured. Protection against lawless violence was shown to be consistent with the certain and awful punishment of guilt. No opportunities for defence were withheld; but no opportunity for spectacular play, or the gratification of vanity, which is so great an incentive to such crimes, was afforded. I know that this has been appreciated by the Cabinet of the late President McKinley, and it is especially appreciated by the representative of New York in that Cabinet. I am authorized to say that President Roosevelt fully concurs in the sentiments I have expressed.

I remain, my dear Governor, with great expressed.
I remain, my dear Governor, with great respect and esteem, your obedient servant, SAYS SHE'S SECOND BEST WIFE. Former Alderman Abraham L. Bennett Sued for Divorce.

Alimony of $20 a week and $100 counsel fee were awarded Edith M. Bennett by Supreme Court Justice Maddox in Brooklyn yesterday in her suit against former Alderman Abraham L. Bennett for an absolute divorce. It is said that the defendant has an income of $5,000 a year. He is an undertaker at 338 Franklin avenue and is in the livery business at 267 Greene avenue, Brook-livery business at 267 Greene avenue, Brooklyn, and in East Sixty-third street, Manhattan. The couple were married in 1886 and have two children.

The plaintiff alleges that Bennett is also married to a soubrette known as "Ouida" and that they live in a flat at 223 East Fourteenth street, Manhattan. The plaintiff avers that the defendant pays $40 a month for the rent of the flat and that "Ouida" has horses and carriages, while the plaintiff and her children are neglected. An affidavit was presented by Mrs. Tilly E. Waddy of 1650 Atlantic avenue, the mother of the plaintiff, setting forth that she and her daughter visited the East Fourteenth street flat and saw "Ouida," who produced a marriage certificate which showed that she had been married to the defendant in New Jersey on June 2, 1900.

FELL 265 FEET AND LIVES.

Broken His Most Serious Injury.

McKeesport, Pa., Nov. 14 .- Joseph Bolneski fell 265 feet down the shaft at the Jamison mines near Crabtree yesterday. His only injuries are a dislocated shoulder and some cuts and bruises.

Bolneski is a Slavish miner. Yesterday he was standing at the top of the shaft which is 265 feet deep, watching the cage descend. His foot slipped and he fell headforemost into the shaft. He struck the rope which threw him against the shaft wall, and he bounded back and forth until within a few feet of the bottom, when he grasped the rope of the cage and broke his fall. He alighted on his feet on the cage and pitched forward into the level. His companions at the top of the shaft hastily drew up the cage and went down to pick up the remains. Bolneski was unconscious and bleeding from wounds, but his moans indicated that he was far from dead. Examination by the company' phydical. Bolneski is a Slavish miner. Yesterday dead. Examination by the company physicians showed that he had been only slightly hurt in addition to the dislocated
